I've played this game from 1 to 4 and there's a lot of changes and improvements to the game. So far playing this entire franchise, I've never encountered any bugs or crashes. This is one of the best games you can own and a good time killer when you're bored. I enjoyed this whole series of games and finished all of them. It's usually a challenging experience to get all the extra achievements and it can get really hectic for some three star ratings. Time management games need a lot of charm to be compelling enough. This one does, giving us a goofy Greek mythology based story and some mythological allies. You need to like this particular genre to like anything about the game, but if you do, you're not going wrong with the Labors of Hercules. This is the fourth installment with minor changes of mechanics, but at the core, it is the same game. Follow my curator at <https://store.steampowered.com/curator/28337205-Fair-Minded-Witness/>. Nicely polished time management game with good value (especially considering the price). One of my favorite series, worth checking out the previous installments. Bonus levels are better than before but in my opinion this series is getting worse with every new piece. The story continues. Hercules is saving the nature! Megara is reforesting trees and cleaning up oil from the soil. More maps, same music. And Anti-Hercules, terrorizing the peasants. I miss the boss fights. Like the other 12 Labours of Hercules parts, really nice game!. the worst of the series. Thus game is exactly like the previous 3 in the series. Adjustable difficulty with approximately 45 levels full of timed puzzle solving fun. Great for kids but also fun casual gaming for adults. I'm in my twenties and love the week or so of gaming after work that I get out of all four of the games in this series.. This is the fourth installment of the "12 Labours of Hercules" series. As someone who's played the previous three, I would say this is the strongest, as it incorporates all the elements from previous games, while adding some new mechanics. Here, Hercules and Megara have more of a role than in previous games, although the servants do most of the work (of course). What's interesting is how they've added other features , such as a "Midas Exchange", where you can exchange supplies or food for gold. There are new tracks to the original soundtrack as well. The gameplay is like the previous games, so if you haven't played them, I wouldn't recommend to start off with this one. Great for casual play to sneak in the day for a few minutes.. Game Information 12 Labours of Hercules: Mother Nature Platinum Edition is a Strategy game that was developed by JetDogs Studios & Zoomout Games and published by JetDogs Studios. The fourth chapter of the game's series. Previous installments as follows: "12 Labours of Hercules;" "Cretan Bull" and "Girl Power." There is a storyline for this game, but is not much to the story line, and nor it is memorable just like story lines from the previous games from the series. The gameplay formula is pretty much the same as its' predecessors. Unlike, the other game from this series. This is the second game to be labeled as a platinum edition. Game Visuals I want to mentioned that the visuals in the game is well done. The visuals can be adjusted in the game's option menu. Game Audio I want to mentioned that audio for the game is well done. Even though the audio is somewhat simplistic and repetitive. The audio can be adjusted in the game's option menu as well. Gameplay This is a time management strategy game, where careful planning is required, due to limited amount of resources that are available; hence the words "management" and "strategy." The game has five episodes with ten levels each. Plus a bonus five bonus levels for each episodes that can be unlocked by completing their jigsaw puzzle level. There are three different difficulty game modes to choose from: Relaxed; Casual and Expert. The difference between these difficulty game modes is the scoring and timer speed. The relaxed mode no scoring and timer. The casual mode lowing scoring and slow timer speed. The expert mode high scoring and fast timer speed. Three stars can be earned from playing the game on Casual and Expert mode. The stars that earned depends upon on how fast the level is completed and how much resources that are left in the resource storage bins. The star ratings: Three stars (Gold) is when the game level is completed before the time passes the arrow on the timer. Two stars (Silver) is when the game level is completed as the time passes the arrow on the timer. One star (Bronze) is when the game level is completed as the time runs out on the timer. There are several special power up bonuses in the game. These special power up bonuses helps complete the level much quicker. These special power up bonuses has a time limit tied to them. But they recharged automatically over time. These special power up bonuses are useful when the game is being played on expert mode. There are twenty-two different achievements that can be unlocked from playing the game. Each of these achievements does come with some requirements that needs to completed before they can be unlocked. Miscellaneous There are nine different wallpapers. They can be access only through the game's main menu. There are seven different trading cards to collect. The game only drop three of those trading cards. There are several ways to get the rest of the trading card: Purchased from Steam's Community Market; Trade with friends; Booster Packs and its' Booster Pack Creator. Final thoughts: I have found the game enjoyable to a certain extent. The replay value for the game is low. I would recommend this game, but not at the game's full price value.
