I bought this game thinking it would be fun to share with the grandchildren (whose parents are very against game with any violence). Or at least to play myself. Years ago I did Archery and the bow does move up and down if you are using a bow that is too heavy. If that happens you use a lighter bow because you will not be able to control the shot.

Unfortunately the kids can't play this and it really isn't fun for me. Would like to see something easier in the future - but it isn't this game.

. Good job games wonderful definitely if you want to practice do levels 1 through 5. A few times and then after that continue with the game it's incredible good game. I use a controller with it and. I use companion controller which is good it's in the steam library that would be good then you get that and you're all set to play with a controller Works beautiful good job with the game I wish it would make some other Target games like this should make it a shooting game next that would be good. It's lazy even for a 99 cent. To simulate shaky aim, instead of your vision/reticle going slightly up and down like what happens in most games with archery, here your aim swings uncontrollably upwards for multiple seconds before it starts to come down again and actually aims where you want to, and you have to wait through this tedious process every time. It ruins the game, but it's not like this is any good otherwise. You can have sound and (awful) music or neither, there's no Music Off option. With a few fixes it would be at least worth the buck, but right now it's refund material.. There's really not a lot to say about Archery Blast that isn't obvious. But to buy a game that's such fun, and so VERY challenging with the constantly moving bow (and often targets also), with SIXTY levels.....

....for only 74 CENTS (on sale, $.99 otherwise) it's really hard to go wrong. To kill some time while you stay out of trouble (think how much you COULD be spending!), it's a Big Ol' YES!!! (Trust me, it's just ZEN as all git out!)

Thanks, y'all!. A fun time waster. Although the odd up and down movement that happens when you're aiming feels a little unnecessary but it also is part of the challenge. Or adds to it anyway.

It is definitely a shameless mobile port but I'd still give it a go. Which I did.. - Window mode not working. Still changing to fullscreen with no reason.

- Weird aiming. \udb40\udc21
